United Nations A/HRC/32/41/Corr.1

General Assembly

Distr.: General
6 October 2016

Original: English

Human Rights Council
Thirty-second session
Agenda item 3
Promotion and protection of all human rights, civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights, including the right to development

Report of the Special Rapporteur on trafficking in persons, especially women and children

Corrigendum

1. Footnote 7

The last line of the footnote should read

See also Sonja Wolte, "Armed conflict and trafficking in women", German Agency for Technical Cooperation (2004), pp. 20-21, and International Organization for Migration (IOM), "Addressing human trafficking and exploitation in times of crisis: evidence and recommendations for future action to protect vulnerable and mobile populations" (2015), p. 17.

2. Footnote 10

At the end of the footnote, insert

See also Sarah Craggs and others, "Responding to human trafficking and exploitation in times of crisis: reducing the vulnerabilities of crisis-affected populations, including migrants, in preparedness, response and recovery efforts", Migrants in Countries in Crisis Initiative Issue Brief (IOM, 2016).

3. Footnote 12

For the existing text read

12. See, for example, United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and Save the Children, Small Hands, Heavy Burden: How the Syria Conflict is Driving More Children into the Workforce (Amman, 2015), and Geneviève Colas and Olivier Peyroux, Trafficking in Human Beings in Conflict and Post-Conflict Situations, Secours catholique-Caritas France research-action report (2015).

4. Footnotes 14, 20 and 29

For Secours catholique-Caritas France and Peyroux read Colas and Peyroux

GE.16-17303(E)
1617303

Please recycle

5. Footnote 26

For the existing text read

26. See, generally, Wolte, "Armed conflict and trafficking in women". See also IOM, "Addressing human trafficking", p. 17.

6. Footnote 30

At the end of the footnote, insert

See also Craggs and others, "Responding to human trafficking".